SEVEN KILLED IN WRECK BIG AIRLINER

BURNED WRECKAGE OF LINER MISSING MANY HOURS FOUND

ALL SEVEN OCCUPANTS OF
AMERICAN AIRWAYS PLANE
KILLED ON MOUNTAINSIDE

DE BRUCE, N. Y., June 11.—(P)—Discovery of a missing Chicago-bound airliner, demolished and its seven occupants dead, six of them burned beyond recognition, today ended a frenzied two-day search.

The wreck of the giant plane with its ghastly cargo was found by W. H. (Ted) Hallock, volunteer pilot, who made an observation flight after American Airlines, operators of the wrecked plane.

Hallock reported his find to police who had been scouring the inaccessible countryside in this section of the Catskill mountains. Later he led a party of state troopers to the scene of the disaster in a clump of woods on a mountainside just across the Ulster county line, about ten miles from here.

During his flight, Hallock skimmed low over the wreck, identifying the demolished plane and returned to Livingston Manor.

Leaving his plane there, he and Lee Lord drove by automobile as near as they could to the scene of the crash, then trudged the remaining distance on foot.

They inspected their gruesome find, saw trapped in the wreckage the charred bodies of six of the plane's occupants. The body of the seventh victim was not badly burned.

Hallock and Lord walked to a farm house about six miles away reported by telephone to officials of Newark, N. J. airport, Mr. D. Victor G. Burke, Sullivan county coroner.

NEWARK, N. J., June 11.—(P)—The American Airlines plane, missing with seven occupants since Saturday night, was reported sighted this afternoon near Livingston Manor, N. Y.

Planes sent out by the airline to check reports made by a private flyer reported back here by radio.

Karl Ward, general superintendent of the line, said pilots in the ships had radioed that the plane, partly burned, was buried in the underbrush in the side of a mountain near the New York village.

A large number of the group of 22 ships the line had out on the search since early this morning were ordered into the Livingston Manor area after a pilot named Hallock reported to Ward that he had seen the plane, which had been unreported since Saturday evening as it passed over Newburgh, N. Y. on its flight to Buffalo.

Theodore Schmidt, division manager here, told reporters the plane had not yet been reached by ground searching parties but that

HAIR KILLS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S RACE; RESOLUTIONS OFFERED

AUSTIN, June 11.—(P)—The Texas state democratic executive committee today voted to hold the party's state convention in Galveston September 11. Houston, Austin, Dallas and Fort Worth also were candidates.

Houston didn't get a single vote, Austin and Dallas received two each and Fort Worth one.

The committee completed its work after certifying the ballot for the first primary July 23. The ballot will carry the usual statutory pledge.

A proposal that the question whether Texas should repeal the state prohibition laws be voted on at the primary elections, was not favored by the resolutions committee.

No action was taken with reference to the participation of negroes in the primaries.

AUSTIN, June 11.—(P)—R. D. Parker, chief of probation and parole, refused to accept a nomination for the Texas railroad commission in opposition to Lon A. Smith, chairman who is seeking re-election.

Parker's withdrawal was re-

STATE IS MAKING THIRD EFFORT SEND HAMILTON TO CHAIR

BOASTFUL DALLAS DESPERADO GOES ON TRIAL IN PRISON GUARD'S DEATH

HUNTSVILLE, June 11.—(P)—The state today began its third effort in recent months to send Raymond Hamilton, boastful Dallas desperado, to the electric chair. Three jurors had been selected at the noon recess for Hamilton's trial on a charge of murder of Major Crowson, Eastham prison farm guard, in the sensational delivery from that farm last January 16.

Hamilton, without tie but wearing a white shirt and gray trousers, wore a sullen, serious look as he was brought into the court room, heavily guarded. Lee Simmons, general manager of the state prison system, and W. W. Wald, warden, accompanied him. Several hundred spectators went to the courthouse.

Of the 75 special veniremen called, 34 failed to report. Mrs. S. W. Robinson, district clerk, said Albert S. Baskett of Dallas, was on hand to defend Hamilton. M. E. Gates, Huntsville attorney, was employed last week by Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson as a special assistant to Max Rogers of Groveton, assistant district attorney, and R. T. Burns, Sr., county attorney.

Hamilton, already carrying 362 years in prison sentences, planned to plead not guilty. The indictment.

YVONNE DIONNE IMPROVED AFTER RECENT SETBACK

QUADRUPLETS BORN TO SAC CITY, IOWA, COUPLE, LAST SATURDAY

CORBEIL, Ont., June 11.—(P)—Yvonne, the heaviest of the Dionne quintuplets, although she weighs but 40 1/2 ounces, showed improvement today and alarm over her condition was largely dispelled.

Their children also were reported to be in a satisfactory condition by their physician, Dr. A. R. Dafeo. Yvonne had seemed much weaker Sunday.

Olivia Dionne, French-Canadian farmer, and his 24-year-old wife, visited their children yesterday, peering down at them through masks, worn to prevent the possibility of a visitor communicating germs.

They looked at the youngsters through the glass tops of the five incubators. Only the five nurses handle the infants.

Attendees were encouraged by the fact that the children collectively gained 4 1/2 ounces over the week-end and now weigh a total of 10 pounds 11 3/4 ounces.

FLOWERS AND BRICKBATS FALL TO NRA, OFFSPRING HARD TIMES, AS FIRST ANNIVERSARY NEARS

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(P)—NRA, that amazing offspring of hard times, attains its first birthday next Saturday.

Born in economic gloom, mothered by enthusiasm, the infant has drawn the attention of the whole world. Observers everywhere are trying to assess its accomplishments. Its future, as Hugh S. Johnson himself predicted, NRA, in these later days, has stood amid a strange shower of bouquets and dead cats.

But as Johnson bids his pioneer NRA workers and high officials to a jubilee party next Friday night, the hard-hitting general is confident. Brushing aside the shafts of critics, some of whom say the vast undertaking is cracking up, NRA's friends contend it has laid a firm groundwork of industrial organization.

Since President Roosevelt put his signature to the Industrial Recovery act June 16, 1933, it has affected more millions of people

FIVE PERSONS ARE STABBED TO DEATH AND SUSPECT HELD

THREE WOMEN AND TWO MEN VICTIMS MADDENED KNIFE WIELDER

SUSANVILLE, Cal., June 11.—(P)—Victims of a maddened knife wielder, three women and two men, were attacked and stabbed to death here during the night, Sheriff James Leavitt said today.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sazio and their 20-year-old daughter, Maria; and Mrs. Lena Tristiani and Sazio's son, John. Sheriff Leavitt said a suspect, who gave his name as Peter Dolis, 45, a lumber mill worker, had been taken into custody and was being questioned.

Sazio, his wife and daughter were attacked in their home by the slayer, who snatched them to death and then dismembered Sazio, Leavitt said.

The man and two women fought with the attacker, whose knife slashed them to death, making a shambles of their little home, Leavitt said.

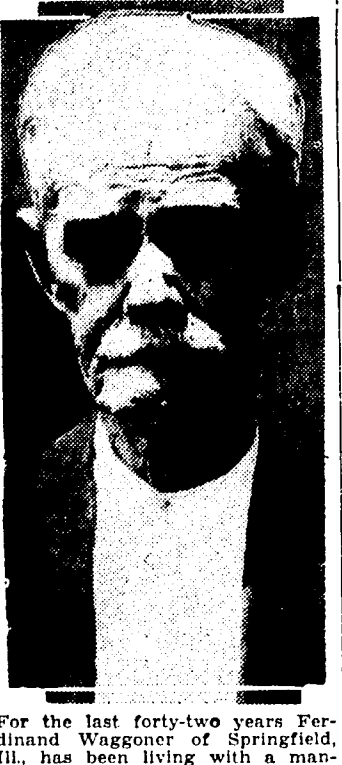

After ascertaining all three persons were dead, the killer fled down a nearby road.

Encountering Sazio's son, John, and Mrs. Amistiani about three-eighths of a mile from Sazio's home, Leavitt said, the slayer began striking at them furiously.

The young man attempted to fight off the maddened killer but fell beneath a rain of knife slashes.

Then the killer turned upon Mrs. Amistiani and cut her down, inflicting 15 knife wounds.

Silver Stomach at 102

For the last forty-two years Ferdinand Waggoner of Springfield, Ill., has been living with a man-made stomach and Monday, June 11th, he celebrated his 102nd birthday anniversary. Shot in the back during the Chicago fire, he was under medical care for years. Finally his stomach had to be replaced and physicians constructed one, mostly of silver tubes. Mr. Waggoner is feeble but in comparatively good health.

GULF HURRICANE MAY COME INLAND NEAR BROWNSVILLE

VALLEY DISTRICT OF TEXAS MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR SEVERE BLOW

BROWNSVILLE, June 11.—(P)—J. N. Schnurbusch, weatherman here, said today there was no indication yet that the tropical disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico was approaching Brownsville and said it was too far away to make predictions.

The barometer here was steady at normal. The sky was partly cloudy and there was a slight wind from the northeast.

The weather bureau at Washington, in a warning, placed the storm about 300 miles southeast of Brownsville and said it was traveling between northwest and west northwest about 8 miles an hour.

"Storm apparently increasing somewhat both in extent and intensity," the announcement said. "Caution advise vessels in south-

AIR SURVEY REVEALS GREAT DESTRUCTION OVER EL SALVADOR

ESTIMATED TWO THOUSAND DEAD IN SAN SALVADOR VICINITY ALONE

By The Associated Press. A tropical storm of hurricane intensity carrying with it a series of cloud-bursts apparently has killed at least 2,500 persons in Central America.

The storm reached its height last Thursday, smashing communications. It was not until today that the first picture of the extent of the tragedy was learned.

The republics of El Salvador and Honduras apparently were the hardest hit.

Reputable sources in San Salvador reported that at least 2,000 persons died around that capital city. A report from Ococeque, Honduras, said the storm ripped out that village, killing 500 inhabitants.

The original property loss estimate of $1,500,000 probably, it was indicated, will have to be revised upward.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, June 11.—(P)—(Via Pan-American Airways Wireless)—Relief workers today estimated 2,000 persons were dead in the vicinity of San Salvador alone following last week's disastrous hurricane and rainstorm.

The Salvadorean air corps yesterday sent up airplanes to survey the nation. They returned to report death and destruction everywhere.

L. C. Calloway, Pan-American Airways airport manager, went along with the survey and made an unofficial report of his findings.

He said the government planes dropped messages to all communities where life was still observed asking them to report in to the capital immediately as to the extent of casualties and loss in each village.

He saw evidences that whole towns had been destroyed by landslides started by volcanic action as the result of the rains.

In the Lempa river he saw the funnel of a river boat sticking out of the water and bodies floating around it.

The coast from La Libertad to La Union was worst hit and the villages there virtually destroyed.

WEEK-END NEGOTIATIONS LEFT LABOR SITUATION UNCHANGED ON ITS FAR-FLUNG STRIKE FRONT

New York City Combats Higher Prices of Milk

NEW ORK, June 11.—(P)—The City of New York, declaring that malnutrition of many of its people is an emergency and a menace to public health, went into the milk business today.

Ten thousand quarts of Grade B milk were put on sale at 53 baby health stations at eight cents a quart, five cents under the regular price. The daily quantity will be increased as rapidly as arrangements can be made to get more milk.

The board of health, in taking this action, announced.

"The purchasing power of a very large number of persons in this city has been reduced to a point where the inability to purchase adequate quantities of food, and the malnutrition of adults as well as of infants and school children, which malnutrition is a menace to the public health of this city."

(By The Associated Press.) A week end of negotiations left conditions on the far-flung strike front of American labor virtually unchanged today.

Representatives of steel industry employers were still adamant in their refusal to recognize the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.

The sharp line of cleavage between conservative leaders and the militant rank and file insurgents of the Amalgamated was softened as Michael P. Tighe, president of the association, joined forces with the insurgents who last week waged verbal war with Johnson, Tighe's opposition is based partly on the impracticability of "finding" men who would have utterly no interest in the steel industry" to serve on the board of mediation Johnson recommends as a means of settling the dispute.

From East Chicago came word that steel workers of the Calumet district are ready for the "holiday" next Saturday but hope that a strike may be averted. Their representatives last night voted a reaffirmation of the resolution calling for a "holiday" unless the steel companies agree to recognize the Amalgamated union.

He reported that half of the funds allotted for June had been received but the full work schedule could not be put into effect until all the money arrived.

Mr. Robinson reported that a considerable quantity of produce was being received and distributed from the community gardens being worked in several sections of the county. All of the gardens were reported suffering because of lack of rain.

JIMMY WALKER, WATCHING HIS WIFE START PICTURE MONDAY, SAYS SATISFIED AT PRESENT

By GALE TALBOT Associated Press Foreign Staff. LONDON, June 11.—(P)—James J. Walker, former mayor of New York, today watched intently from a ring-side chair as his pretty wife launched her career as a movie star in England.

Sitting in the full blaze of the blinding arc lights, Walker, looking better than he has in years, made a running fire of comment while the comedy Betty Compton—Now Mrs. Walker—went through the preliminaries of a motion picture production. She was attired in a fetching sun suit.

"They won't believe it at home," said the man who was noted for his tardiness at appointments, "but we have been here ever since eight o'clock, ready to go."

The former playboy, now ten pounds heavier than when he left New York, has no desire or intention to return to his home land.

President Preparing Vast Plan of Social Insurance for People

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told congress today that he is preparing a vast plan of social insurance for the security "of the citizen and his family."

This, with another national plan for land and water resources, will be laid before congress next winter.

In his longest message to the national legislature, the chief executive said:

"Among our objectives I place the security of the men, women and children of the nation first."

"People," he said, "want decent homes to live in; they want to locate them where they can engage in productive work; and they want some safeguard against misfortunes which cannot be wholly eliminated in this man-made world of ours."

CONGRESS INFORMED OF SECURITY PLAN FOR ALL PEOPLES

PRESIDENT PRAISES LAW-MAKERS IN MESSAGE DEALING WITH SOCIAL INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—The text of President Roosevelt's message to congress, outlining a three-fold attack on the problems of human security, follows:

To the Congress of the United States:

You are completing a work begun in March, 1933, which will be regarded for long time as a splendid justification of the vitality of representative government. I greet you and express once more my appreciation of the cooperation which has proved so effective.

Only a small number of the items of our program remain to be enacted and I am confident that you will pass on them before adjournment. Many other pending measures are of such importance that they must be passed before the session of the next congress. In the meantime, we can well secure the necessary measures in order to carry out our program of government policy for the future of the nation.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—Winter wheat production this year was forecast today by the department of agriculture at 400,000,000 bushels.

Last year 351,080,000 bushels were produced.

Rye production is indicated at 18,000,000 bushels, compared with 27,000,000 bushels a month ago, and 21,184,000 bushels last year.

WALLACE PREDICTS PROSPERITY PERIOD FOR UNITED STATES

MINNEAPOLIS, June 8.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, predicted today a period of prosperity beyond the powers of imagination for agriculture in the United States, to come as soon as the people of the country "decide in what direction they want to go" and unite in an effort to reach that goal.

He was the honor guest and chief speaker at a meeting of farm organization leaders and business men at the Minneapolis club.

The country was "off the hot spot" and it remained only for the best minds to get together, to consult together on the policy for America to follow, Secretary Wallace said.

"We may decide to go on with the old plan and keep 40,000,000 or 50,000,000 acres in production, with production of some of our great staples curtailed to a domestic basis," he said. "We may decide to revive world trade by removing barriers and restore to the world the power by accepting foreign goods."

What ever road the people decide on, however, would lead to unexampled prosperity if they had the will and determination to reach that goal, he declared.

The country, emerging gradually from depression, has had two or three years to talk things over and a decision, reached by the business and with constructive rather than destructive criticism, would produce far reaching results, he said.

ARMY OFFICERS INSPECT SITES AVIATION SCHOOL

Four members of an army air corps inspection group arrived in Corsicana late Thursday for visits to sites offered by Navarro county for the new location of the air corps technical school now located at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill.

Included in the party were Col. Carlton K. Young, Major H. J. Dargue, Major Eddie Lyons, and Capt. Otto Trunk. The officers were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Beaulieu H. Jester, dinner at the Jester home Thursday night.

Friday morning they visited three sites offered in Navarro county, before going to the Texas Tech. campus at Lubbock, where they will remain until Friday afternoon. The visit of the inspection party resulted from the effort made by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce and other local agencies to have the school located in Navarro county. More than 50 cities in the South are seeking the new location for the school.

The party left late Friday afternoon for Dallas where they will make a stop before completing their round of inspections.

RAINS WORTH MANY MILLIONS POURING IN DROUGHT AREA

ST. PAUL, June 8.—(AP)—Rain drummed a dance of dollars on the sun-baked farm lands of the north-west today.

Over 100,000,000 by one expert's estimate in North Dakota alone, the steady downpour flooded fields in nearly every section of the drought-stricken states of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Secretary of Agriculture Wallace conferred here with drought relief directors and announced that despite the break in the drought the federal government will continue its relief program. The plan contemplates supplying 30,000,000 bushels of seed to northwest farmers for next year's crops.

Plans for such a seed distribution were discussed by state and regional relief directors at Wallace, who said he was "highly favorable" to it.

Flood conditions prevailed in many sections where a barren crust of soil under a thick layer of water swirled down ordinary dry stream beds, carrying away bridges and uprooting railroad tracks.

Heavy winds accompanied the deluge in southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota. One man was killed near Mitchell, S. D., as the high wind tore farm buildings from their foundations.

Precipitation measured 2.75 inches at Little Falls, Minn.

Greatest beneficiaries of the rain were pastures, corn and garden crops, agricultural leaders said. Most estimates such crops as wheat, alfalfa and clover have been increased immeasurably by the rain, they said.

LOAN ASSOCIATION HERE IS NOW READY TO START BUSINESS

Following a meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana National Bank and Loan Association, President F. Mitchell authorized the announcement that the association was ready to make loans and accept regular monthly payments on shares.

Headquarters for the association will be on the second floor of the State National Bank building with H. D. Johnson, secretary, in charge.

H. E. SMALLING SHOWS LARGE FIG GROWN AT HOME

H. E. Smalling has been trying for several years to be the first fig-grower to display his fruit at the Daily Sun office, but up to this time he has been preceded by someone else.

Saturday afternoon he showed the first big fig of the year, which was grown on a large tree at his home at 2108 West Fourth avenue. It was officially measured and was found that the big fig was eight and one quarter inches in circumference. It was ripe and very tempting looking.

Mr. Smalling said his fig tree is heavily loaded with fruit this year. He believes the crop will be plentiful.

PRESIDENT URGES CONGRESS TO GIVE HIM HALF BILLION ABSOLUTE FREEDOM IN USE OF HUGE SUM ALSO ASKED IN MESSAGE SENT

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today for $525,000,000 to finance the drought relief program the administration already has undertaken.

"Large scale assistance by the federal government is necessary to protect the people in the stricken regions from suffering, to move feed to livestock, and livestock to feed, and to acquire and process surplus cattle to provide relief distribution," he said in a message to congress.

Absolute freedom for the administration to spend the money as it saw fit was asked.

"We are dealing with a rapidly changing problem and it is important that the authorization should be flexible so that funds can be allotted to the several federal agencies as required," the president said.

He detailed the proposed relief expenditures as follows:

1. $125,000,000 for special work program of human relief.

2. $75,000,000 for livestock purchase in addition to the funds already available under the Jones-Connally act.

3. $100,000,000 for shipping, processing and relief distribution of purchased cattle.

4. $100,000,000 for loans to farmers to finance emergency feed purchases and shipments.

5. $50,000,000 for emergency acquisition of submarginal farms and assistance in re-locating destitute farm families.

6. $300,000,000 for work camps to afford employment in the drought areas for young men principally from cities and towns.

7. $25,000,000 for purchase of seed for 1935 plantings, and for loans to get seeds into farmers' hands.

MISSISSIPPI MOB LYNCHED NEGROES ON FRIDAY NIGHT

LAMBERT, Miss., June 9.—(AP)—The delta country buzzed today over the swift lynching last night of two young negroes for attempting to assault a white woman.

An armed mob of about 125 white men snatched the negroes, John Love and Isaac Thomas, from a sheriff and two deputies. They hanged them from a small highway bridge near the town of Lambert. Sheriff Greck Rice later arrived from Clarksville with county deputies, seeking out the mob leaders. He sought information also concerning the manner in which the negroes, each about 25 years old, were taken from Sheriff W. T. Haynes of Quitman county and his two aides.

For several hours after the lynching the counties of Quitman, Bolivar and LeFlore where the mob arose and maneuvered were cloaked in silence. No one would discuss the lynching.

Late in the night the bodies of the two negroes were found by officers hanging from the bridge, their feet dangling above a gutted ravine. Their necks were broken, but their bodies were not mutilated.

Officers cut the bodies down and laid them upon the bridge where they remained temporarily pending further investigation of the crime.

Sherriff Haynes said Love was from Columbus, Miss., and Thomas was from Carrollton. They had been employed on a Quitman county plantation. The negroes were arrested on being taken to that city they confessed, officers said, to the attempted assault on the wife of a plantation manager at Sledge, Miss.

Officers stopped by Mob. Accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Spidle of Quitman county and Deputy Sheriff J. E. Summerville of Tallahatchie county, Sheriff Haynes was stopped by the mob of armed men in 15 or 20 automobiles, he said.

The mob blocked a bridge between Hushpuckena, Miss., and Lambert, he said, overpowered him and his accompanying deputies and seized a negro, holding him away "to the north."

Sheriff Haynes said they could "only turn back," with three pistols against the armed mob of men.

Deputy Spidle said the officers originally were attempting to get the prisoners to Jackson for incarceration in the strong Hinds county jail, but that after they had heard of the mob, they turned toward Clarksville.

One crowd was encountered at Moorhead, Deputy Spidle said, "but we out-talked that bunch, and then we went on to Clarksville."

STEADY DOWNPOUR FLOODS FIELDS IN THREE DROUGHT-STRICKEN STATES

ST. PAUL, June 8.—(AP)—Rain drummed a dance of dollars on the sun-baked farm lands of the north-west today.

Over 100,000,000 by one expert's estimate in North Dakota alone, the steady downpour flooded fields in nearly every section of the drought-stricken states of Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Secretary of Agriculture Wallace conferred here with drought relief directors and announced that despite the break in the drought the federal government will continue its relief program. The plan contemplates supplying 30,000,000 bushels of seed to northwest farmers for next year's crops.

Plans for such a seed distribution were discussed by state and regional relief directors at Wallace, who said he was "highly favorable" to it.

Flood conditions prevailed in many sections where a barren crust of soil under a thick layer of water swirled down ordinary dry stream beds, carrying away bridges and uprooting railroad tracks.

Heavy winds accompanied the deluge in southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota. One man was killed near Mitchell, S. D., as the high wind tore farm buildings from their foundations.

Precipitation measured 2.75 inches at Little Falls, Minn.

Greatest beneficiaries of the rain were pastures, corn and garden crops, agricultural leaders said. Most estimates such crops as wheat, alfalfa and clover have been increased immeasurably by the rain, they said.

HURRICANE

western Gulf of Mexico next 24 hours.

Col. Sam Robertson, Beach resort owner at Del Mar, said the tide was about a foot above normal at 4 p. m. today but it had fallen since that hour. The swells disappeared, he said.

First reports here indicated the storm would pass inland between Brownsville and Tampico, Mexico, 150 miles south of here, if it continued on its course.

San Antonio, cities in this section proceeded with normal business.

BROWNSVILLE, June 11.—(AP)—Alarmed residents along the Gulf of Mexico today watched the progress of tropical storm, reported by weather observers to be moving across the gulf at a point between Tampico and Brownsville.

J. W. Schnurbusch, Brownsville weather observer, said the disturbance had changed its course and had last been located 300 miles east of Tampico and 375 miles southeast of Brownsville. It moved along at an eight-mile-an-hour speed in a west-north-westerly direction.

Fearful lest the disturbance should develop into hurricane proportions, Brownsville and lower Rio Grande Valley residents boarded up buildings and made preparations for a gale. This vicinity was struck by a disastrous hurricane last September.

Schnurbusch said that if the disturbance held its present course Brownsville could expect some effects from the wind late today or tomorrow. It was not expected to strike Tampico.

Gulf waters were choppy as a stiff off-shore breeze blew in and coast guardmen at Port Isabel and Port Aransas said long ground swells had appeared there. All vessels in the Gulf were warned by weather bureau bulletins that the disturbance was accompanied by winds of gale force and probably of hurricane force near its center.

Corpus Christi reported only a slight land breeze and barometric readings were normal along the Texas coast. Skies were clear.

The hurricane that smashed its way across the Rio Grande Valley ten months ago left many dead and wounded and a great deal of property and crop damage into the millions. In some places rehabilitation work has not yet been completed.

Storm Warning. WASHINGTON, June 11.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory 10 a. m. tropical disturbance central about 22:30 north and 94:30 west moving between northwest and west-northwest about 8 miles per hour accompanied by winds of gale force and probably of hurricane force near center. Storm apparently increasing somewhat both in extent and intensity. Caution advise vessels in southwestern Gulf of Mexico next 24 hours."

The bureau said the position given for the storm center is in the Gulf of Mexico about 300 miles southeast of Brownsville, Texas.

High Tide at Port Aransas. CORPUS CHRISTI, June 11.—(AP)—A tide of one foot above normal at Port Aransas was reported by the coast guard this morning. It was less than a foot yesterday. The ground swell was decreasing and the barometer was normal. The sky was clear.

Get Steamer Reports. HOUSTON, June 11.—(AP)—C. E. Norquest of the United States weather bureau here today received reports from two vessels in the Gulf near the storm moving towards the northern Mexican coast.

The steamer Lorazan, due south of the storm center reported a barometer reading of 29.56 and a wind blowing 50 miles an hour from the west. The steamer Teagala, north of the center, reported a barometer reading of 29.56 and wind blowing from the northeast at 42 miles an hour.

FINE EAST TEXAS TOMATOES BEING FED TO CATTLE OR LEFT TO ROT ON GROUND; PRICE LOW

(By The Associated Press)

Rich, East Texas tomatoes were being fed to cattle today or left on the ground to rot as farmers held out for a minimum of 2 cents a pound in an effort to stabilize the market.

Texas growers descended on the Mississippi river producing section near Crystal Springs to fight for co-operation in a marketing agreement or holiday. They went back to Texas with a refusal from Mississippi growers to join in the movement.

East Texas growers contended the competition from Mississippi and the Rio Grande Valley was responsible for the low market. They met and declared they would "crum tomatoes down the buyers' throats before we will sell for less than 2 cents."

However, only one instance of violence was reported. At Mount Selmer, eight miles from Jacksonville, Texas, a committee of tomato growers seized and dumped 200 bushels of tomatoes sold and ready in a platform. Picketing along the roads was reported in some sections.

At Rusk, truckloads of farmers flooded the town, demanding that growers shut down or pay the two-cent price. One buyer who accepted the plan did a mail order business.

In some points the buyers had accepted the two-cent price and shipping had been resumed.

From Mississippi came the word that action there was in retaliation to Texas' failure early in the season to co-operate with Mississippi shippers in formulating a mutual marketing plan.

Refuse to Join Strike. CRYSTAL SPRINGS, Miss., June 9.—(AP)—Tomato growing farmers of North Louisiana and East Texas were "on strike" today, withholding their fruit from the market because of the low price it brought, but the plant tomato industry in the Crystal Springs area refused to join them at a conference last night.

Prices ranged from a half to one cent per pound while the farmers are demanding two cents.

Chalabone, La., tomato raisers reported sending their ripe tomatoes to livestock rather than to sacrifice them at a half cent a pound.

A thousand farmers of the Crystal Springs-Hazlehurst tomato growing section conferred with a delegation of a hundred crop representatives from Texas, but last night announced that they would not join East Texas in either a marketing agreement or a shipping holiday.

The Texas delegation was headed by L. W. Burr, a prominent East Texas business man.

COTTON MILLERS IN DOUBLE HEADER WIN SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Corsicana Cotton Millers annexed both ends of a twin bill here Sunday afternoon, taking a 13-3 decision from the local Rinkydinks, and a 7-6 win over Navarro in the nightcap, a 10 inning affair. Bondurant, knocked out the winning run in the 10th inning for the Cotton Millers in the last game.

Russell was credited with the wins of both games, but he was given relief by Harris. B. Horn tossed and lost for Navarro and Finley duplicated the feat for the Rinkydinks.

In the Navarro game the Millers nipped A. Horn and Scruggs for 16 hits, while Harris and Russell limited the visitors to nine. Russell struck out nine men and Harris whiffed five. Horn and Scruggs breezed two each. In the Rinkydinks game Harris and Russell were touched for eight hits, and Finley was hit 12 times. Russell struck out six men and Harris struck out 11. Finley retired four men. Crouch of the Cotton Mill rated a home run.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

San Antonio defeated the Dallas Stars Sunday and took the leadership of the Texas league race.

Henderson replaced Jacksonville as the leader of the West Dixie league during the week-end.

Home run hitters Sunday included Gehrig, New York Yankees; Ott, New York Giants; Ryan, New York Giants; Cissell, Boston Red Sox; Chamberlin, Boston Red Sox; Kramer, Philadelphia Athletics; Berger, Boston Braves; Whitney, Boston Braves; J. Moore, Philadelphia Phillies; Haslin, Philadelphia Phillies; Lombardi, Cincinnati; Collins, St. Louis Cardinals; Anderson, St. Louis Cardinals; McHenry, Fort Worth; Johnson, Oklahoma City; Euler, Houston, 4; Stoneham, Tulsa; Funk, Dallas; Frieron, Paris Tobin, Paris; Schleicher, Henderson; Pyle, Jacksonville; Rabe, Jacksonville; Vaughn, Tyler.

Carners and Baer will meet in their championship battle at New York Thursday night. Both are putting the finishing touches to their training early this week.

Carners, defending champion, was still the favorite among the wagering fraternity Monday. He is reported to be looking impressive in his conditioning workouts.

Home run hitters Saturday included Ruchbourn, Nashville; Patton, Joplin; Richmond, Hutchinson; Cuccinello, Brooklyn; Frederick, Brooklyn; Johnson, Philadelphia.

Athletes: F. Herman, Chicago Cubs; Haas, Chicago White Sox; Simmons, Chicago White Sox; R. Johnson, Boston Red Sox; Goff, Palestine; Cummings, Jacksonville; Sanguine, Tyler; McPhaul, Henderson; Ott, New York Giants; Sht. maker, New York Giants.

Trawick, product of Richland and now with the Palestine club of the West Dixie league, is clouting the ball at a 346 clip. Frieron, outfielder for the Paris club, occupant of the cellar in the percentage column of the circuit, has hammered out eighteen homers thus far in the season. He clouted five in a recent game. Paris has a small park, however, and that accounts for the homers. Frieron is not hitting .300.

Gus Burleson, veteran pitcher with Jacksonville, lost a hard-luck game Saturday night to the Tyler crew when Bob Sangunt hit a home run in the tenth with a man aboard in the season. He clouted seventeen batters and gave up 11 hits. He was opposed by the veteran Oscar Huero who hurled years ago in the Texas league. Burleson will be remembered by Corsicans as one of the aces of the Tyler club in 1934 when Tyler and Corsicana staged their Lone Star series or the class D supremacy of Texas. Tyler had little trouble sweeping the series, winning four games while Corsicana had to be content with one tie. Gus was an old-timer at that time.

Local Independent Baseball Team Won Against State Home

Corsicana Independent baseball nine had easy sledding to a 15-4 win over State Home at the O. P. campus last week. J. Moore of the losing nine was touched for 16 safe hits, while Goodman of Corsicana scattered nine among the State Home batters.

Corsicans who stayed at home Sunday and complained of it being the hottest day of the year were right. It was. The high point reached on the official government thermometer was 100. Sunday night was also a hot one, the low point being 75.

The continued hot dry weather is beginning to cause considerable apprehension among the farmers of the county. Corn in those sections where there have been no local showers is suffering. Cotton is doing fairly well, but a rain would help.

Gardens are just about burned up.

A record docket greeted Judge H. S. Melear in the Corporation Court Monday morning, headlined by twenty dusky offenders who were arrested over the week-end by city officers who found them engaged in a big dice game in East Corsicana; other charges included one of intoxication and disturbing the peace, two of intoxication, one of speeding, one of making a left turn on Beaton street, and one for shoplifting.

The shoplifter was charged with theft after he was arrested while trying to secure a mate for a "galloping domino" in his possession.

MORGAN STEPS DOWN

Faced with the separation of the securities business from the commercial banking business, as is required by the banking act of 1933, it is rumored that J. P. Morgan and Company will choose commercial banking.

If so, the most famous financial institution in America, which has dominated the securities flotation business for two generations, and through money power and interlocking directorates has wielded vast power, will take rank below two dozen commercial banks in New York and around the country, as regards volume of deposits. Nevertheless the prestige of the House of Morgan and the talent of its master and his numerous partners will doubtless make it a great power in whatever financial field it elects to operate.

The Morgan decision, if it has actually been arrived at, might be taken as a verdict that Morgan and his partners see little opportunity hereafter under the new laws for securities and stock exchange regulation. It may be, from these and other causes, that the issuance of stocks and placing of big loans will never again be so extensive and profitable as they were before the depression. Certainly they will not be so free again from public control. And it is inconceivable that so much power as Morgan has exercised will come again into the hands of any private banker.

If Morgan does go into ordinary commercial banking, which itself is now subject to stricter regulations, it means the taming of perhaps the most rugged individualist of this generation.

COLLEGE OPINIONS

College students are coming into news lately almost as much as professors. The depression has done something to them. As a class, they are far more interested in public affairs and problems than they were a few years ago.

A good example is found in a two-day meeting of 300 students, representing 20 colleges and universities in one state, for discussion of various questions now before the public. Here are some of their conclusions:

State control of liquor is an improvement, discouraging promiscuous drinking and promising eventually to make liquor cheap enough to drive out bootlegging.

Capital punishment is a better safeguard to society than well-intentioned but weak humanitarian reforms; Revision of the penal system, at the hands of experts, is desirable;

The sales tax discriminates against the poor and is too easily evaded.

State unemployment insurance is less desirable than federal insurance.

This meeting was described as "the first successful attempt in the state to organize student opinion, the future balance of political power on the crucial political issues of the day," and as the beginning of "a permanent organization dedicated to the expression of political opinion by those qualified to do so, namely, students and other thoughtful people." It promptly submitted its program to the state legislature.

Such activity, now growing throughout the country, may come to something. It may yet get regarded as even more important than college athletics.

UNABLE TO SPEND

No American ever expected to see the day when the United States government would find it hard to spend money. That is ordinarily the easiest thing congress does. But the allotment made by this year's executive budget was too big to get away with.

Improvement of business conditions is partly responsible for the failure; but the main cause seems to be that the government simply couldn't get rid of its resources any faster. Thus, of the $7,300,000,000 estimated for the fiscal year ending with the present month, there will remain probably $3,000,000,000 unsold.

The failure to meet budget estimates within this big margin has been chiefly in two lines of recovery activity—the RFC and the PWA. Demands on the Finance Corporation have eased up somewhat, and there have been large repayments of loans. Public works expenditures are slow in getting under way because there are so many formalities connected with construction plans and safeguards.

The administration evidently expects both of these big outlets to speed up next year. There is no indication that the President is hedging on his two-year estimate. If the government pushes ahead on that basis, there will be about $10,000,000,000 to spend the next 12 months.

That ought to clinch recovery, if federal disbursement of public funds can do it. May the money not all be needed! Yet it is reassuring to know that it will be available.

UNPROFITABLE KIDNAPING

There has been a lull in kidnapping lately, since the cases of June Robles and William F. Gettle ended happily. The Literary Digest remarks, rather plausibly, that this evil is destined to wane for the very practical reason that it doesn't pay.

Three abductors of Gettle, caught and sent to prison, ruefully pronounced kidnapping "a lousy racket." In eleven other notable cases, a recent summary by the Associated Press showed convictions in six of the cases, lynchings in one and suicide in another.

There have been some instances of huge ransoms, with apparent impunity. But they are exceptional. The peril of detection and severe punishment constantly increases. The racket is far less attractive since the United States government threw its resources into the fight. From now on, only the most daring and resourceful criminals can hope to win in this cruel game.

MARRIAGE COMES BACK

The marriage license bureau in St. Louis, as in a number of other cities, reports a brisk increase in business. In the first five months of the current year it had issued 720 more licenses to wed than in the same period in 1933. The first week in June saw a couple of records broken in the number of licenses issued in a single day.

Marriages were considerably slowed up during the depression. It is not commonly realized, however, that there was a definite slump in marriages beginning back in 1923 and continuing right through the prosperous boom years. No

Such Wild Western Ways—!"

JOBS FOR WOMEN

A woman newspaper reporter in a large industrial city was recently assigned the task of finding out whether a woman could get a job in that town today. She devoted a week to the task and arrived at the answer, "Yes, if—." By the end of the first day she had four jobs to choose from. They were selling jobs, but with reliable concerns offering good products. She had discovered, too, that with her good references a satisfactory housework job could be had for the asking. There were other selling opportunities, she found, but of distinctly inferior type.

The "ifs" in job-getting for women in her community lie in her own attitude. She reports:

"If a woman is looking desperately for work, if that woman has average educational background, intelligence, assurance, a convincing personality, a fairly pleasing appearance; and if that woman will pocket false pride and take, not what she might have commanded four years ago, but any job she is capable of filling, that woman is going to get work. I find that it is very likely not to be the kind of work or pay she wants—but the fact remains that work can be obtained."

Although there are said to be 15,000 women unemployed in her city today, the reporter found more and better opportunities for women than she had expected.

FRONTIERS

They say there are no more frontiers. Superficially, at least, it looks so.

In the old days a young man could go west and stake out a mining or timber claim or take up a homestead. Now the land is not to be had without buying. Mining claims are still possible, but opportunities are slight. Natural resources are frozen up and human resources suffer likewise.

We still take up claims, but we go after them vertically rather than horizontally. That is, we claim rights and jurisdictions adequate reason for this has been agreed upon. Some observers said marriage simply was becoming less popular. The low point was reached in 1932. There was considerable improvement during 1933; and now the good old custom seems to be regaining wide-spread popularity. It just goes to show that it is unwise to bewail a social change too soon. The vanishing custom may merely be taking a pendulum swing which will be reversed in due course of time.

where we are. Industry under NRA is a domain of what might be called labor pioneering. Labor groups are carving out jurisdictions, and to some extent capital employing groups are, too, under the codes. Lawyers, doctors and other professional groups likewise stake their claims. Evidently we are not going to be economically fluid much longer. And as we take on fixed forms in ways of making a living, are we going to do so, too, with our social and cultural and recreational practices?

We can hardly expect to be so free hereafter as we have been. Yet opportunity will not be lacking in a nation of such variety and resourcefulness. We grown-ups are puzzled and baffled, but our children will find a way. Their world will be a different one from ours, but it may be a better one.

RECIPROCAL PROSPERITY

One great American industry, at least, is not afraid of foreign competition. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, urging adoption of the government's reciprocal trade policy, says:

"This policy will restore many of the jobs that have been destroyed by trade strangulation in the past and, through revival of the purchasing power of our working men, will help to reestablish a larger domestic demand for goods of all kinds."

The automobile manufacturers are not afraid of foreign competition in their own field. They are willing to let foreign motor cars enter this country at a lower tariff rate, or even none and any given instance, do all, if other countries will give theirs the same privilege.

There are other important industries in the United States which, whatever competitive costs may have been in the past, can now produce in quantity as cheaply as any foreign competitor, or more so. Foreign consumers would doubtless like to buy these good, low-priced American products. The only serious question would be whether, in any country and any given instance, domestic industries would be ruined and domestic workers out of work.

American automobile men, along with many American economists, believe that a judicious readjustment of tariff rates downward, by mutual agreement, would improve prosperity, all round, here and abroad.

SOCIALISTIC MONKEYING

The American Socialist party, with more signs of life than for many years in spite of its small membership, showed a slight tendency to run amuck in its recent gathering in Detroit. Some of them insisted that the Socialists "stop monkeying with Messiah" and approve armed force to wipe out capitalism and install their own system.

This is nonsense, but dangerous nonsense—especially for the advocates of force. There isn't likely to be any sort of revolution in America unless by ballots. Any serious effort on the part of Socialists or Communists to overthrow the existing order by violence would not only fail of its purpose but might swing the country to the opposite extreme, bringing Fascism.

COCKTAIL PARTIES

The "mixed tea" of prohibition days has now come into the open, and appears frankly as a cocktail party. Seeking enlightenment in this elegant form of entertainment, the writer turned not to an old-fashioned bartender, as an unsophisticated reader might fancy, but to the woman's page of a newspaper, and this is what the lady editor was saying:

"The delights of a few Martini cocktails, and the consequent easy air of informality, unite to make this type of gathering the best adapted to paying off a great number of social obligations at one time. It is a dull group indeed that will not enjoy this form of entertainment, provided the host and hostess do their 'hate' to make the party a success."

"Let us leave the mixing and serving of cocktails to the host. Everyone is agreed that a few delicious cocktails are far superior to the quantity without quality that was too apt to characterize hospitality during prohibition. Drinking is becoming more and more moderate, and temperance has returned to fashion."

"The hostess has an opportunity to show her ingenuity at this time, and no matter how many and how varied are the appetizers, she serves, if they are well prepared, she will find very little food left over after the last guest has departed."

All this is edifying and conducive, as alcohol often is, to philosophic reflection. It leads a fellow to wondering whether the lady editor herself ever tossed "a few" of those delicious Martini cocktails into an empty stomach, by way of appetizer,

DILLINGER CLUES SOUGHT AS RESULT HENCHMAN'S DEATH

TOMMY CARROLL, COMPANION OF SLIPPERY GUNMAN, KILLED IN IOWA

WATERLOO, Ia., June 8.—(AP)—New clues to John Dillinger's whereabouts—alive or dead—were hunted today over the backtrail of Tommy Carroll.

When Quick-shooting detectives pumped five bullets into Carroll yesterday, they erased another of the crime brothers of Dillinger; but their gunfire was a bit too good, for it sealed lips that might have given valuable information about America's number one bad man.

O. H. Dewey, a federal agent, questioned Carroll before the 28-year-old gunman died, but so far as he would say Carroll had nothing to offer concerning Dillinger. With Carroll was Jean Compton. She said she was his wife. Police are holding her. She was one of three women arrested following Dillinger's escape from the little Bohemia resort at Mercer, Wis.

Police heard that another man and another woman had been companions of Carroll and the 21-year-old Crompton girl, and search for them was pressed. After the shooting of Carroll, the missing couple hiked out of town, the police heard. Although the Crompton girl claimed she was Mrs. Carroll, authorities were advised the gangster's widow is Viola Carroll of St. Paul, Minn.

Acting on instructions from Mrs. Carroll to a local undertaking firm, the authorities planned to send Carroll's body by train to St. Paul for burial.

Accused of several midwestern bank robberies, at least two slayings and a mounting list of crimes reported by midwestern authorities, Carroll was shot down near the local police station.

Detectives Emil Steffen and P. M. Walker had been watching Carroll's car, acting on a tip from a garage mechanic. As the officers sought to arrest him, Carroll struggled with Walker and was the target for the shots of the two officers as he broke away.

Through her tears, Mrs. Viola Carroll told of her marriage in East St. Louis in November, 1925. She had been separated from him, she said, since July 14, 1932.

"I don't care what anybody says or what Tommy has done," she sobbed. "He was the finest fellow in the world. He was always good to me and I loved him. I know he was crazy over another girl, why that's all there was to it."

BIG "READY MADE" CODE BE ANNOUNCED SOON FOR INDUSTRY

By JAMES COFFE
(Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—NRA will announce soon one big "ready-made" code for several hundred miscellaneous industries whose facts have not been completed.

This basic code will be almost as simple as the president's re-employment agreement with which the blue eagle started its flight a year ago. It aims to give the minor industries regulations which will be easily understood by the NRA's chief objectives. These are:

Shortened hours to make more jobs; wages not below living levels; recognition of labor's right to organize and bargain; prohibition of dishonesty and the obvious forms of unfair trade practice.

The small, secondary industries will be given opportunity to subscribe voluntarily. If they want more elaborate trade practice regulation they will be required to present the signed assents of 85 per cent of their firms.

PONTIAC, Mich., June 8.—(AP)—Raymond D. Carroll, 32, and his wife, Maybelle, 26, today faced arraignment in municipal court on charges of cruelty to children. The complaint of police officers who said they found two children of the couple bound to a bed in the De Harrold home their mouths taped shut.

Called last night by neighbors, police found the mother at a party across the street. They took her to the county jail, where she spent the night. De Harrold, the officers said, was at a motion picture show.

The police said the children, Eugene, 4, and Neoma, 6, were alone in the house, their hands and feet bound, and tied to a bed. Tape was affixed to their mouths in "X" fashion so they could make no outcry.

Is Your Will Obsolete

Recent events may have made your will obsolete. Your estate may have changed its size and its structure. Your business, your home, your securities and life insurance—all may have changed their relationship to its total value. Perhaps increased inheritance taxes will affect the aggregate bulk of your estate—leave a smaller residue—materially change the proportion going to each heir.

DISTRICT MEETING MISSIONARY WOMEN METHODIST CHURCH

Representatives from most of the auxiliaries of the Women's Missionary society of the Corsicana district met at Coolidge June 6th with Mrs. E. L. Crow, our district secretary presiding. The meeting was opened by the congregation singing. For a short time devotionals were led by Mrs. C. A. Boaz. Devotional was led by Mrs. Ed McGee. Her scripture was Psalms 46. Prayer by Mrs. J. W. Spivey.

Words of welcome were given by Mrs. E. L. Vanderpool with a special prayer by Mrs. A. K. Marney. Our conference president, Mrs. J. W. Spivey, brought us a message on Evangelism and Church Loyalty. She spoke of "S. R. A. Spiritual Recovery Act." She urged us to pray for a spiritual awakening for this is the most important thing for us as missionary women. She said we must be loyal and stand for the things our church stands for. Various messages and greetings were extended by Mrs. Spivey from our missionaries in the foreign field. She told us our missionaries were putting faith instead of fear into their work. They were able to make the most of the critical period in spite of the depression. She closed by saying: "Whoever lights a glow of missionary zeal in his heart and cultivates it in the hearts of others is helping to save the world for missions around the world."

Mrs. Raymond Buckley spoke on Christian Social Relationships. She made the following recommendations: 1. War versus Peace 2. Christian citizenship 3. Interracial co-operation 4. Industrial relations 5. Rural development. She said "I believe we know far better how to love God than we know how to love our neighbors." The Christian Social Relations committee has a channel through which we as women can apply the Jesus way to every day problems. She said: "A woman who does not interest and inform herself about such questions and use every available method to correct the wrong, betrays her Lord."

Mrs. R. W. Bonham of Ft. Worth gave us a talk on Literature and Publicity. She said it is a spiritual necessity to have the World Outlook in our homes. She urged that we conduct a campaign at once to "put over" the Outlook in our church. The Coolidge children gave us a demonstration of the work they are doing.

Mrs. Boaz sang a solo: "Ninety and Nine" that was enjoyed by all. Miss Felicidad Mendez gave us a talk on "What Christianity has meant to my life." She spoke out of her own experience and heart. She said when one really had the genuine experience of a changed heart there must be a transformation of character, a new outlook on life. Her message was a great inspiration to all present.

Letters were read from Mrs. Bryan and Mrs. Cosswhite. They stated that Corsicana district was 100 per cent in study and supply. Visitors were introduced to the conference after which we adjourned for lunch.

The devotionals in the afternoon was led by Mrs. D. W. Pittman of Mexico. Her subject was "Possibilities of Achieving Greatness." Prayer by Mrs. J. E. Laney.

Reports of the presidents and zone leaders were heard. Mrs. Crow presented posters of her own making to each auxiliary. Mrs. Spivey was presented with a quilt made by the mother of Mrs. Crow and donated by the auxiliaries of the district. We tried to show in a small way our appreciation to Mrs. Spivey.

Mrs. Boaz conducted a wonderful prayer retreat. Her scripture was the chapter of Romans. She said "Christ died for us and we must live for Him. We had a season of prayer led by Mrs. Crow and closed by Mrs. Buckley. At the close of the session of prayer we sang the congregation song "Take My Life and Let It Be." We were dismissed with prayer by Dr. Caspar S. Wright.

A deep spiritual atmosphere prevailed throughout the day and those who attended felt it was good to be there and returned to their homes feeling that we had gained new courage, new strength and new determination to carry on. The meeting will be held in Blooming Grove next week.

MRS. W. V. HARRISON.

Over Five Thousand
Units Canned With
Twenty Canniers

A grand total of 5276 units had been canned by members and non-members of the Navarro county home demonstration clubs using the twenty canners supplied them by the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce in the current campaign. Canning has slowed appreciably during the past week as many gardens are suffering for lack of moisture.

Some of the reports indicated that young beef was being canned for the fall and winter months, and it is reported probably that some chickens will be conserved in the same manner.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

Enter the summer bride in a new and glamorous version of the wedding gown—
sheer chiffon over shimmering satin.
Liana Marwin

What the summer bride will wear is gloriously exemplified in the sketch above, showing the very latest creation for that all-important event. She will be found looking her loveliest in a gown of shimmering satin, draped over a form-fitting slip of lustrous satin. Its sophisticated simplicity is achieved by the princess effect, modest high neckline, charmingly fashioned sleeves and scalloped train flowing gracefully along the floor.

The filmy effect over the shoulders and low back is produced by the clever fashioning of the under-slip, revealing the dainty embroidered sprays which are embellished with tiny seed pearls—and pearls.

Some of the brides will look sweet in frills and ruffles, while others will wear gowns of more dramatic type. The model shown here, however, possesses all of the desired features—a gorgeous creation for the summer wedding, doing in the modern manner, yet having all of the glamor and romance every bride-to-be could wish for.

PLANE CRASH

The description as radioed to Newark left "no doubt" that it was the lost 15-passenger twin-motored Condor.

The wreckage on the ground, according to Schmidt, showed the same number of motors and the same shaped fuselage.

DE BRUCE, N. Y., June 11.—(AP)—C. B. Ward, proprietor of the De Bruce club which state troopers are using as a base of operations, said today that the missing Newark-Chicago transport, plane, which was ditched, burned, three miles southeast of Mongaup Pond.

Ward said that the wrecked ship was located from an observation plane flying in a clump of woods just across the river, early today.

The plane was inaccessible, Ward said, making it necessary for the troopers to proceed on foot four or five miles.

A group of troopers left for the scene at noon, Eastern standard time, and Ward estimated that it would require two or three hours for the trip to the spot where the plane was reported sighted, and returned.

De Bruce is but five miles from Livingston Manor and about 10 miles from the place where the plane was reported sighted.

The spot where the plane was reported down is in one of the least populous counties in New York State, some 100 miles from New York. The country is made up of a rugged spur of the Western Catskill mountains.

The first report that the missing plane had been found was received at Newark airport. A canvass of a number of places in the rugged country brought no results for some time.

Finally a searching plane sent out from Newark airport on the strength of the first report, sent back word by wireless that the plane had been sighted, burned.

Then Ward verified the reports from his club, his information coming from state troopers who were hunting for the aircraft as temporary headquarters.

Corporal Fordham said that Sergeant Margin, with a detail of troopers, had started immediately for the scene. He was accompanied by Pilot Halleck, the man who sighted the wreck.

He said that the searchers would have to travel about four miles through densely wooded territory, over doubtful trails on hazardous hills.

Three Killed in Argentina Crash

JUNIN, Argentina, June 11.—(AP)—Three persons were killed today when a Pan-American-Grace Airways plane crashed in Mar Chiquita, some 200 miles west of Buenos Aires.

The pilot of the plane, which carried six passengers and a crew of four, was Charles F. Lindenberg of Los Angeles, Cal., married.

Others on board the plane were: S. B. Eismann, Teaneck, N. J., married.

Radio Operator J. F. Raley, father living in Irene, Texas, married.

Purser Max Smith of Santiago, Chile.

H. Greig Veeder, Jr., (also given as Veestring) believed to be a North American.

Maria Milas De Martinez, Maria Martinez, Milia, and Carlos Alessandri, all three understood to be relatives of President Alessandri of Chile.

Joseph E. Colonna, Buenos Aires, businessman.

Early Search Had Been Without Result

CATSKILL, N. Y., June 11.—(AP)—Aerial observers today looked down on Black Dome mountain, where a Condor plane was reported to have crashed, but without result.

Two airplanes, one carrying J. N. Royale of Buffalo, swept the countryside near Liberty in Sullivan county, where there also were reports that the big black and orange American Airways Condor had been seen late Saturday.

Holder, a friend of Roy C. Coppins and William A. Cass, of Buffalo, two of the four passengers on the plane, directed a private search. The twin engined Condor carried a crew of three.

A Condor of the department plane looked over the 12 miles of wooded area near DeBruce, a few miles from Liberty. The liner was reported last seen there.

Investigator A. C. Coe picked up with binoculars an object that had the general appearance of an airplane wing. They said it was orange or red. The missing plane had orange wings.

Lieut. Gary Sager of the state police started at the head of a party for Winter Grove Hotel, on the side of Black Dome mountain. The object seen in tangled underbrush appeared to be about a mile and a half from the hotel, which was not opened for the summer.

State troopers at Athens reported to Albany that a search of the Black Dome area by air and foot had been fruitless. From Liberty came a police teletype report which read: "Mr. Royale has no report to make."

A report that a plane resembling the missing one was seen at the Boonville, in northern New York at 6:30 p. m. Saturday, was received by state police.

Ward Yeomans of Boonville, the police said, reported he saw a plane in the distance straggling behind Lake Lewis county.

The troopers asked pilots of two planes in that region to take off on a survey of the 15 miles of wooded area between Boonville and Boonville, in Oneida county, is 50 miles northeast of Syracuse.

Report Hearing Plane.
Three other persons at Lyons, N. Y., said they had seen a plane, reported hearing a plane at the same time, the police said.

The ship carried four passengers and a crew of three. Only enough food was aboard for a

Here is a pleasant sort of frock—as well as an extremely chic one. It is just as much at home on the tennis courts as on the side-line, and just as nice to look at! If you are going to actually get out and do things, you will probably make it of something like linen or cotton or plique. If you are going to sit in the shade and watch somebody else add to her laurels, then a print is a nice thing to choose for it with a ribbon scarf matching the pattern. And please remark that it has a duck of a little cape that buttons onto the shoulders whenever you like.

Pattern 1907 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3-5/8 yards 36-inch fabric and 1-1/2 yards 4 inch ribbon. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

MANY DEAD

drinking water again although it is only issued two hours daily.

The work of burying the dead is being carried on as fast as the army can get rescue workers into the stricken settlements.

Thus far, only the locality around the capital can be reported upon with any exactness, but the isolated villages are doing their own work covering up the ravages of the 24 hours in 24 hours rainfall of last Wednesday.

The flying fields can be used again and the government is depending completely on airplanes to establish contact with the outlying districts.

Lakes Guila and Costeque have risen far over their banks and swept away every vestige of civilization around their shores.

Airplane observers flying over the international railroad of Central America, which has been completely washed out for long sections, saw the international train lying upside-down several hundred feet from where the mountain track had been.

There was no way of telling from the air, of course, but it appeared likely that every person on the train had been killed.

The government is doing its utmost to relieve its citizens and the army is laboring faithfully to take care of the unfortunate.

Federal decrees are guarding against profiteering.

The main fear of the present time is that the destruction of sanitary facilities and the presence of many unburied bodies may cause a pestilence.

In order to provide as much emergency transportation by truck and airplane as possible the government has confiscated all the gasoline in the capital.

BOSTON, Mass., June 11.—(AP)—The entire community of Ocotepeque, Honduras, has been wiped out. At least 600 were believed to have been drowned by a flood, a radio report to the United Fruit company headquarters here today stated.

The report was received from a wireless operator in Guatemala who said: "Highly respected that the whole town of Ocotepeque has been wiped out by flood."

The town, which is the most westerly community in Honduras, is about 20 miles from Metapan, Salvador and presumably is one of the places which reports from San Salvador stated were struck by a tornado and windstorm last week.

Ocotepeque is located on the Lampa river, which flows westerly into the Pacific.

Disaster Is Appalling.
TEGUIGALPA, Honduras, June 11.—(AP)—Many were believed lost today when heavy rainstorms flooded the Ulu river which has risen 45 feet above normal and spread out over La Lima district. Government authorities ordered out canoes to rescue marooned survivors.

The rivers Blanco and Hunuya have flooded all their areas. The Corez district is swamped. Ilima and the western district has been flooded.

Tegucigalpa, which had been cut off by the storm, is reasonably normal again with only two citizens drowned.

Disasters from cutting districts show the disaster at Pimienta to be appalling.

A large group of the inhabitants there fled the town before the onrush of flood waters and sought refuge on a small hill nearby.

They climbed higher and higher up the slope as the waters rose but the hill was not sufficiently high to save them.

Every person on the hill was drowned.

The number of casualties at Pimienta still is unknown. A few scattered and exhausted survivors have reached villages in the highlands to tell the tale.

KEEPING MUSCLES FIRM

I may talk a lot about stimulation, perhaps too much so, but if I do it is only to impress on you the fact that stimulation is the basis of modern, sane beauty development. In the case of lax muscles, you must stimulate. You must stimulate. You might possibly do something to a bad chin by strapping it up—in fact, giving it this sort of crutch is a very good idea when the chin has become very bad. But its virtue is only temporary, for in a few hours the muscles will have sagged as much as ever.

Therefore, I repeat, stimulate. Slap under the chin with the back of your hand, or, preferably, with the regular patter. There are several of these on the market, and as long as you use one of them you need have no preference. There is a short, thick all-rubber one with a round and slightly hollowed head, useful for packing creams or astringents. This lands against your skin with a curious squidy noise; nevertheless it is very effective. Then there is another type of patter, a flat disc also hollowed out to hold your cosmetics. This has a long handle of wire so that it hits the skin with a sharp slap, which has many advantages. Then there is another variety, again with a long wire handle, but with a flat disc. In some ways this is the most effective, for the skin feels the full force of the slap. However, though it is meant to be used directly against the skin after a massage with cold cream, it can have a wad of cotton fastened around it with a rubber band, and it can then be soaked with an astringent skin tonic and used this way.

This is sometimes the most effective chin treatment of all. If the skin is crepey or dry, it should, of course, be rubbed with a thick nourishing cream, one containing lanolin. But this is a bed-time treatment; during the day use the patter with astringent.

Mrs. J.—You will be able to make a very nice shade of blue rinse for your white hair if you shave up a little of the lead from an Indian pencil, and drop the shavings into the water to be used as the last rinse after a shampoo. There are commercial rinses for this purpose if you do not care for shade from the pencil.

Mary T.—If your hair is of the auburn shade, tans, browns and greens will be most becoming. If it is of the bright red color, black, silver grey, creamy white, and also all greens will be best choices. Black velvet is very becoming for either shade of this kind of hair. Reds and blues are usually the poor choices, but if used at all they should be very dark in color.

"GOD'S LAST PAY CHECK," SUBJECT OF SUNDAY SERMON

"God's Last Pay Check" was the subject of Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor, at the First Baptist church Sunday night to a splendid congregation. Rev. Miller spoke on "How I May Know That I Am a Christian" at the morning hour with John 5:24 as the text. There were three additions to the church at the close of the services.

JUSTISS ONE OF FIVE LIVING MEN AT PRESS MEETING

The Texas Press Association will convene in Dallas on Thursday, June 14 and last through Saturday, June 16. This is the first time the association has met in Dallas in 35 years, and there are only five members of the association alive today that met in Dallas on that long-ago occasion, and Col. A. N. Justiss of Corsicana, one of the five. Others now living who attended that meeting are T. B. Lust, Denton, E. G. Senter, Dallas; W. A. Adair, Marshall, and John H. Cullom, Dallas.

The secretary of the Texas Press association, Sam P. Harbo, who is also editor of the Texas Press Messenger, official organ of the Texas Press association, requested Col. Justiss to contribute an article to the last issue of the Messenger, which he did, as follows:

THIRTY FIVE YEARS AGO—From an Ex-Member.

A. N. JUSTISS, Editor, The Messenger, Texas.

There has been a great change in the membership of the Texas Press association since the last meeting in Dallas 35 years ago. I was present at that meeting and there was some heavy weights of the T. P. A. that have passed on. Such men as Frank P. Holland, Frank Doremus, W. A. Shaw, Rev. Geo. C. Rankin, Jaun S. Hart and others, and a banquet was given at Fair Park at which Rev. Geo. C. Rankin spoke.

W. A. Adair, now living, was present and who just a few years before that had married a young lady he met at Corsicana when the Press met here at that time. Hart of El Paso, was president. Adair was mayor of Marshall about the time of the Dallas meeting.

I ran my daily and weekly papers up to 1915 and went in as postmaster at Corsicana, served nine years under Woodrow Wilson's two commissions. Then I served as Navarro county's representative in the first and 42nd Legislature and have been Democratic County Chairman, Senatorial and Congressional chairman in times past.

I attended practically every meeting of the Press Association from 1892 to 1915.

Presbyterian Men To Meet at Home of Dr. and Mrs. Polk

Men of the First Presbyterian church will meet for a program and refreshments on the lawn of Dr. and Mrs. C. Polk's home, corner Twenty-third street and Sycamore avenue at 7:30 Tuesday night.

Every man who is a member of the church is extended a cordial invitation to be present, and a large attendance is being prepared for.

FULL GOSPEL CHURCH REVIVAL MEETING IS STARTED ON SUNDAY

The revival in the Full Gospel church at 110 South Beaton started off well last night. There was good attendance despite the extreme hot weather. Rev. E. J. Robinson brought a wonderful message on "The Lowliness and Greatness of Jesus." The contrast was in His lowliness in the eyes of the world and His greatness in saving, healing and miracle-working power.

The revival will continue every night, and during the remaining nights there will be fans in the building for the comfort of those attending. Rev. Barth, missionary from Japan will be with us Wednesday night and will flash pictures of that country after the regular service.

Rev. Robinson and the pastor are just home from the annual Council of the Texas district of the Assemblies of God, of which this church is a part. Thirteen years ago the first Texas Council convened at the same church in Fort Worth and it is revealed that it was attended by a total of forty ministers and delegates.

This council was attended by four hundred ministers and many delegates. A host of three thousand people attended the three services a day for the four grand days of council meeting. The Texas district is also looking forward to the September next when the General Council, with representatives from the world over will convene in Dallas. World Church News reported that this church movement has increased one hundred percent in the last five years.

Rev. E. L. Newby, chairman of the Texas district will be with us one night during this meeting. Come every night and receive a blessing.

U. S. GRANT, Pastor.

Leave For Capital To Take Place With Federal Government

Mr. and Mrs. Burle Davis will leave between June 20 and 25 for Washington where Mr. Davis will go into training in a division of the department of justice July 1, to fit himself for work in that department of the government. Mr. Davis recently stood an examination and investigation in Dallas before a board, and it was reported that he was recommended for the work by Representative Luther Johnson, and Senators Tom Connally and Morris Sheppard.

Mr. Davis reported that he was found eligible for the study and the examiners reported he stood exceptionally high in his legal attainments, education and general make-up. After intensive work and study in the department of justice the recipients of these positions are given the direction of the department's work in various districts of the United States. It is considered the most valuable appointments that can be given a young lawyer, and there is no limit to the heights that may be reached.
